ECONOMY RULE IS APPLIED TO COUNTY RELIEF

Cash To Be "Stretched" In Order To Cover Summer Months

MUST DEPEND ON MATCHING FUNDS

Gardens Will Aid; Clothing And Fuel Requirements Are Lower

LISBON, June 4.—With careful economy Columbiana county's relief funds can be stretched to cover the summer months, averting a crisis similar to situations now existing in many other counties of the state, until September.

To accomplish this it will be necessary to pare summer allocations to a minimum, according to I. H. Vorniran, bookkeeper in Auditor John Irwin's office.

Curtailment at this time of the year is not expected to work a hardship on the clients due to the fact that many of them are raising gardens. Fuel and clothing demands also are at a minimum.

Lacks $50,000

The county will lack about $50,000 to complete the year's relief requirements, Vorniran stated. Since money from all sources available at the beginning of the year aggregated $145,000, this means that the total relief expenditures for the year will be close to $200,000.

When the present relief program opened, the county employed funds from several sources to supplement the state-county matching fund. These included a balance in the old RFC fund, balance from sales tax bonds and a balance from the public utilities tax bonds.

The malt and admission tax bonds helped swell the figure.

These funds have now been exhausted, Vorniran says, requiring the county to depend on the matching fund for future allocations.

Unless further aid is secured from the state, July and August allocations will exhaust it.

An increase in the county's WPA quota this summer would relieve pressure to some extent, county officials state. Assignment of several hundred men to the Wellsville road wall project is anticipated.

Local authorities believe many of the workers may be assigned from other projects in the county.

4,397 Received Aid

There were 4,397 individuals receiving direct relief in the county when the last census was taken May 17. This is comparable to 4,514 receiving aid during the preceding month. The figures are exclusive of the 2100 men and women employed on WPA projects here.

A census is taken about the middle of each month to determine the number of the following month. The amounts they may spend are approved by N. R. Rutz, representing the state auditor, before payment.

Expenditures also must be settled before the next grant is authorized.

Teacher To Seek Post In Assembly

John P. Stephenson of East Liverpool today announced he will be a candidate for nomination as state representative at the Republican primary Aug. 9.

It is the first political venture of Stephenson who has been a teacher in the East Liverpool High School for eight years.

Searching Florida Swamps for Kidnaped Lad

Here is part of the huge search party, composed of more than two thousand volunteers, which is combing the Everglades and swamps in the vicinity of Princeton, Fla., for trace of James B. Cash, Jr., who was kidnaped from his Princeton home. Payment of the $10,000 demanded by the abductors failed to bring return of the lad.

130 AT JUNIOR C. OF C. DINNER

Charters Are Presented; National Vice President Is Speaker

Approximately 130 persons attended the Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner in the Memorial building Friday night, at which time the city's new civic organization received its state and national charters.

Principal speaker was Philip C. Ebeling of Dayton, vice president of the United States Junior Chamber, who gave an interesting talk on "Where The Young Man Steps In".

Other speakers were William Corry of Chillicothe, president of the Ohio State Junior C. of C.; Donald Nesbitt of Dayton, state secretary; Robert Fleuger, president of the Akron Junior Chamber; C. C. Mitchell, president of the Ashtabula organization; Don Raley, Canton president and state vice president; W. T. Blair, Youngstown president, and T. G. Leffingwell, of Warren vice president.

Officers of the Cleveland Junior C. of C. were present but did not speak.

J. Don Guiley, president, and James Jackson, second vice president of the Salem group, opened the meeting and then turned it over to Marshall Lamson, president of the Warren Junior Chamber, who acted as toastmaster. Tyrus Swartz' Rhythm Boys provided musical entertainment.

The speakers lauded the Salem group for the fine start it had made in getting organized and Ebeling pointed out, for the benefit of the older men present, where the young man steps into his share of civic responsibility.

A Better Program
"The young men have a right to give something to their community," he said, "and how much better it is to have these men wearing the 'white shirts' of community service."

Admits Thefts Of Auto Parts In Salem

The series of auto-part thefts in the city recently was believed by police to have been solved today, at least partly, following the arrest of James Eichler, 23, of 1311 S. Lincoln ave.

Eichler was lodged in city jail last night by Patrolman Clifford Todd, who arrested him on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Eichler had a 32 calibre revolver in his pocket but it was not loaded.

After questioning the prisoner at the jail, police and Chief Ralph Stoffer went to the boy's home where, in a garage, they found a battery, tires and wheels which, they reported, had been stolen.

The defendant, who, police said, had been arrested for chicken stealing in 1935, told Chief Stoffer he was arrested in Pennsylvania for driving a car while intoxicated.

Although police intended today to question the youth further, he said last night that he had not said any of the numerous stories which have been taken from automobiles here.

Rev. Stanley Takes Call At Alliance

DAMASCUS, June 4.—Rev. C. G. Stanley, pastor of the Friends' church at Hughesville, Pa., has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Alliance First Friends church for the coming year.

Rev. Stanley and family will go to Alliance in September. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stanley of Damascus.

ABANDON HOPE FOR RECOVERY OF BOY ALIVE

Florida Parents Resigned To Death Of Their Only Child

POSSES OF 2,000 RETURNING HOME

But FBI Chief And Force Work Diligently On Every Lead

(By Associated Press)
PRINCETON, Fla., June 4.—Weary, grief-ridden James Bailey Cash, Jr., said today he was resigned to the death of his only child but convinced the kidnap-slayers would be caught.

Cash, his shoulders bent by fatigue and his eyes bloodshot from sleepless nights, appeared briefly on the porch of his home to express to reporters his thanks to the 2,000 persons who hunted fruitlessly for the blond five-year-old boy snatched from his bedroom last Saturday.

Hopes For Solution
Asked if he thought the case would be solved, he said:

"Yes, I think so, as far as catching the fellows who did it is concerned. Once we catch them we will be able to find out what they did with the boy."

He indicated he had given up all hope of finding James, Jr. alive. "I expect a break within the next week or ten days," he said but declined to amplify the statement.

The stricken father said Mrs. Cash still was under a physician's care but was "some better." Like himself, she had abandoned hope for her blue-eyed son's life.

With the baffling case entering routine phases of investigation, most of the 2,000 persons who trapped in vain over 120 square miles of territory bordering the everglades returned to their homes.

Throng of curious idlers about the home of tow-headed "Skeegie" dwindled and life here slipped back slowly into its normal pace.

The fleet of boats which cruised along the coast and through canals dispersed.

Hoover Works On
But the squad of federal agents headed by J. Edgar Hoover worked diligently on every lead, mindful of the fact a week had passed since the Cash boy was stolen from his bed last Saturday night.

One group planned today to finish a survey of the Cape Sable area, on the extreme southern tip of the peninsula, and then move westward along the Tamiami trail. Agents continued to question a

Express Package Weighs 2½ Tons

COLUMBIANA, June 4.—The largest single express package ever sent from Columbiana was shipped yesterday to Los Angeles, Calif., by the National Rubber Machinery company, when a 2½-ton dry-cleaning machine was sent out on a special express train. The express charges were $508.

It required about 20 minutes' work to get the heavy machine from a truck through the express car door, necessitating the temporary removal of two outer planks of the crate to permit the machine to pass through the door.

The East Palestine degree team will exemplify the work at the district initiation of Eagles lodges of district No. 8 in Salem Sunday. Quaker City aerle No. 316 will be host at the lodge home on E. State st.

The meeting, opening at 2, will be in charge of James Fitzgerald of Niles, grand deputy auditor and district director. Principal speaker will be Past State President James H. Kellner of Columbus.

Eighty-five candidates are expected to be initiated. Leroy Porter, social committee chairman, has arranged a dinner for 5 o'clock. An entertainment will be given at 8 p. m. for members and families.

Guests are expected from Leetonia, Lisbon, East Palestine, Niles, Warren, Girard and Youngstown. H. W. Pealy, secretary of the Salem lodge, today received notice of the appointment of W. F. Crowl of Salem as deputy state president.

Those Billion-Dollar Smiles!

Anticipating the successful passage of the relief bill they plotted through the senate, Senators Alva B. Adams (left) of Colorado and James F. Byrnes of South Carolina exchange smiles at Washington.

Below—Seen in discussion of the new relief bill are Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg (left) Michigan Republican, and Ernest Lundeen of Minnesota. Senator Vandenberg's motion to increase the fund set aside for direct relief was defeated. Lundeen asked an additional three billions for pump priming.

Cherry Stealing Episode Provides Topic For Sermon

Rev. S. Talmage Magann, pastor of the First Baptist church, turned detective last night and caught a gang of boys stealing cherries from a tree in the backyard of his home on S. Union ave.

The preacher "scared the wits" out of some of the boys, whose ages ranged from seven to 16. They confessed to him that they had been stealing fruit in other sections of the city, but he released them when they promised to improve on their behavior.

The parents of these boys are to blame, Rev. Magann says. "Too many parents do not know where their children are at night," he added. As a result of the incident, Rev. Magann has prepared a sermon, "A Boy's Heritage," which he will deliver next Sunday morning, June 12.

Policy Reductions Approved By Duffy

COLUMBUS, June 4.—Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy ruled today that insurance companies could make premium reductions on automobile liability and property damage policies of safe drivers.

Duffy informed the division of insurance that policies containing a written clause that 15 per cent of the premium would be returned if the drivers had no accidents was valid and did not constitute a rebate, which has been barred in Ohio.

"Approval of this plan, which gives safe drivers lower insurance rates, will result in the encouragement of safe driving and prevention of accidents," Duffy commented.

Senior Farewell Party Abolished

The annual Senior Farewell party was abolished at a recent Senior class meeting.

Ballots were given to each student who was to state whether or not he would attend the affair. A count of votes showed that little interest existed in such an event.

CONTROL IS GIVEN TO F.D.R.

6 To 1 Decision Sends Relief Measure On Way To House

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 4.—The senate voted six to one for a $3,723,000,000 spending-lending program last night—and handed the Roosevelt administration the pursestrings.

The 70 senators who remained for the finish of the two-weeks' battle over the bill divided 60 to 10 for the measure. Seven Republicans and three Democrats lined up against it.

Restrictions Lose
Before the final vote, opponents of the program lost every attempt to write restrictions into the bill. As passed, it would give President Roosevelt an entirely free hand in the disposition of the huge appropriation.

Twice the senate turned down proposals to forbid political activities by employees in emergency agencies. Opponents of the amendments contended this would deny such employees freedom of speech and opinion.

These amendments brought the closest contest. One was rejected by one vote and the other by two.

By substantial margins, administration leaders defeated proposals to earmark more than $500,000,000 of PWA funds for specific purposes. President Roosevelt, asking "flexibility" in the relief program, has indicated opposition to earmarking.

The chamber also turned a cold shoulder to a Republican proposal to hand over relief administration to the states and an effort by Senator Byrd (D-Va.) to wipe out the $265,000,000 appropriation for the PWA.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, stepped from one desk to another during the last hours of debate, holding whispered conferences and presumably urging senators to hold their tongues and let the bill come to a vote.

May Adjourn Next Weekend
Upon passage of the bill, Barkley told his weary listeners that congress probably would adjourn next weekend after sending the relief measure and a pending wage-hour bill to the White House.

The spending-lending program now goes to a joint senate-house conference committee for the adjustment of differences between measures passed by the two chambers.

The senate bill totaled almost $600,000,000 more than the house measure. The senate increased by $175,000,000 the house allotment for the WPA, but provided that the sum should run the agency until next March 1. The house had voted $1,250,000,000 for work-relief to last until Feb. 1.

Other senate increases included $212,000,000 for farm benefit payments, $300,000,000 for additional slum clearance loans and $1,000,000 for administrative costs of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Benton Rd. Motorist Injured In Accident

Harry A. Miller, 46, of the Benton road, was removed to Salem City hospital following an automobile accident on Route 9, one-half mile north of New Garden, at 2:45 p. m. Friday. He sustained an injury to his spine.

Miller was riding in a car driven by his wife, Ruby, 45, when, according to state highway patrolmen, something went wrong with the steering apparatus and the vehicle overturned several times. Mrs. Miller was unharmed.

The accident occurred as Mrs. Miller, driving south, was passing a car driven by Mrs. Harvey Rickert of the Lisbon road. The victim's condition at the hospital is reported fair.

Will Oppose Duffy

CLEVELAND, June 4.—Charles Cavanaugh, Cleveland attorney, announced today he would oppose Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy for the Democratic renomination.

Cavanaugh, in a statement, said Duffy had sent collection business of liquidating banks to his brother, "by him in turn to be farmed out to favored attorneys in Ohio and in other states, on a split fee basis."

Shot Accidentally

George Boston, 20, of Washingtonville, was shot in the left groin while attempting to clean a gun at his home Friday afternoon. The weapon went off accidentally, it is reported.

Boston was brought to Salem City hospital at 1:30 p. m. where today his condition is reported fair.

PROVOCATION

Grant that Americans are not at their best when they start looking under the bed for political bogey-men. The great red scare of the early 1920's is proof.

But grant, also, that the subversive activities of minorities inspired and partly financed from abroad is sufficiently provoking to make most Americans want to do something to show their disapproval.

In many other countries, under the same circumstances, there wouldn't be merely an investigation. There would be positive, probably lethal, action—an orgy of persecution. Americans still guarantee, even to subversionists, the right of free speech and assembly. That is their strongest claim to political nobility in these days of rampant intolerance.

It may turn out that the committee which the speaker of the house of representatives will appoint to investigate "un-American propaganda" will do nothing but draw expenses. Or, it may turn out that its activities will lead to needless hysteria and bitter hatred.

Probably, the result will be somewhere between these extremes. It is proper the public should know what is being done by hostile groups toward weakening this government. They cannot expect to carry on their boring-from-within without encountering opposition.

It is unfortunate such a situation has arisen. But it has arisen. The investigating committee will need to conduct its probing with restraint, but to say it should not conduct any investigation at all is to refuse to recognize that Americans have a right to protect their own interests.

TWO BIRDS

By the time the farmers and the politicians get through, the unemployed will have to take up agriculture and new dealism to get any relief out of the fund to be appropriated for their benefit.

The plan to use a couple hundred million dollars of relief money to buy surplus farm products may kill two birds with one stone, but it would be accidental.

The federal surplus commodities corporation, which would do the job, has existed since 1935. Its primary function has been to help farmers, not to give food to the needy. In Rockland county, New York, welfare officials recently said children of relief families were using oranges for baseballs, because the FSCC had sent too many.

Only a negligible part of the agency's funds have been used to buy surplus commodities for relief distribution. Thus, unless FSCC policy is changed radically, it seems safe to say the farm bloc is about to make a second raid on the spend-lead bill.

The first raid was an amendment, adopted by the senate Wednesday, to divert $212,000,000 for farm benefit payments, in addition to half a billion already allotted under the crop control law.

AT LAST, A HINT

If Sen. Bob Reynolds nabs N. Carolina's senatorial nomination today, a hint will be supplied on what should happen when new dealer meets new dealer.

Rep. Frank Hancock, the senator's opponent, says his rival is a playboy, that he kissed a movie actress on the capitol steps, signed a testimonial for a brand of cigars and gadded about in Europe after promising he'd stay home and tend to business. Besides, his secretary is a girl from Virginia.

Therefore, argues Mr. Hancock, Sen. Reynolds is not as good a new dealer as he, who hasn't done these things. It may be shaving things pretty close to choice between bona fide new dealers and bogus ones on this kind of a basis, but offhand it looks as though Sen. Reynolds should get the nod. He has shown the keener appreciation of folly.

Monday, Harry Hopkins' boy, Otha D. Wearin climbs into the ring in Iowa against Sen. Gillette, marked for slaughter by new dealers because he voted to maintain independence of the judiciary. It's going to be a big weekend for separating sheep from goats in these United States.

PICKING 'EM

The ruckus over Washington interference in state Democratic primaries doesn't mean that new dealers have invented a new technique. It always has been customary to reward your friends and punish your enemies in politics.

The only difference at present is that new dealers, desperately trying to strengthen their wing of the Democratic party, are being more brazen about interfering than is customary. They have abandoned even the pretense of impartiality.

This is part of the struggle for control of the Democratic party—an especially bitter part. It should be watched, therefore, with the consequences in mind. It's good politics to reward friends and punish enemies, but the trick is never to back the wrong horse.

The new dealers are staking their prestige on being able to pick the winner every time. That way, they're nothing to fear from the loser. It would be a good trick, but no one ever has been able to do it.

THE STARS SAY:

For Sunday, June 5

Sunday's horoscope is a very important one with presage of sudden and far-reaching developments, probably most vitally affecting the social, domestic or romantic affiliations. Drastic change may be looked for, with travel, removal, new interests and contacts. This might all be incidental to a bereavement. It is not a fortuitous condition for dealing with superiors or asking favors.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of most surprising and sudden developments, possibly affecting the whole course of life and its fortunes. There may be decisive change, removal, travel and adventure, particularly affecting the romantic, social or domestic life. A death or bereavement may bring this upheaval about. It is not a favorable time to seek the friendly aid or preferment from superiors and those in authority.

A child born on this day may have much talent in original lines, with an adventurous spirit and independence in thought and action. It may have a rather influential life and much romantic adventure.

For Monday, June 6

Monday's astrological forecast is for a particularly lively and interesting day, with much stirring in the handling of papers, writings, publication and promotion. With wise judgment these should thrive, but there is a menace of rash and impetuous conduct which might offset benefits. Shun disputes, contention, litigation and all reckless activities. Although there are signs of romance, yet there may be a disagreeable contact with a woman, perhaps elderly.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a very interesting year in which papers, documents, writings or publicity may be important and should bring success. But a predisposition to disputes, quarrels, sharp speech and much impetuosity hide menace, particularly of unfavorable litigation. Feminine influence is shown, both romantically and also detrimentally.

A child born on this day may be extremely versatile, clever, original, constructive and adventurous, and should make a splendid success of its affairs if it would learn to shun reckless, hasty and vindictive speech.

OFFERS CO-OPERATION TO "HUMANIZE" WAR

(By Associated Press)

ASHINGTON, June 4.—The United States, condemning bombing of civilians, offered cooperation with other nations today in "humanizing" the rules of warfare.

The willingness and desire of this country to join in such an effort was expressed by Secretary of State Cordell Hull in a significant address on foreign affairs in Nashville, Tenn., last night. He also announced the readiness of the United States just beginning a huge naval expansion program, to reduce and limit armaments instead if other nations will do the same.

A few hours before Hull's address, Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, had denounced in a statement here the bombings in Spain and China which have killed thousands of women and children. Welles called such warfare "barbarous" and added:

"Any general bombing of an extensive area wherein there reside a large population engaged in peaceful pursuits is contrary to every principle of law and humanity."

The state department said Hull's address had been dispatched to world capitals and would be available if foreign offices wanted it. However, American embassies and legations were not given instructions, they said, to pass it on to foreign governments.

In addition to asserting this country's willingness to limit arms and agree to a humane code of war practices, the secretary of state said the United States was prepared to join other nations.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York City.

There is a common but mistaken belief that "four out of five" persons suffer from pyorrhea. Though there are all too many cases, the disease is not nearly as prevalent as that.

Pyorrhea is not seen as it was in former years because of the marked improvement in mouth and dental care.

Pyorrhea is not a modern disease; it was known to the ancients. The old Roman who indulged in too much rich food suffered from pyorrhea. It is always to be expected when there is any carelessness in the hygiene of the mouth.

Pyorrhea is not a disease of the teeth. It is an ailment of the tissues or gums that surround the teeth. Later on, the teeth may become infected and diseased. Pyorrhea is a slowly progressing disturbance and unfortunately is often overlooked in its early stages.

The disease goes on unrecognized because of its lack of pain. If it were painful during its early stages, the condition would be checked more quickly than it can be later.

Poisons Absorbed
As the disease progresses the involved tissues become pus infected. It is not long after that when there is absorption of poisons by other parts of the body. Indeed, vital structures, such as the heart and kidneys, may be seriously impaired by the effects of these damaging substances.

Normally the tissues around the teeth are pink, firm and resistant to pressure. They form a protective barrier to guard the tooth structure against damage. The gums surround the teeth and snugly adhere to them, keeping food and other substances from sliding down between teeth and gums. When pyorrhea is present the picture is entirely different. The gums are no longer pink and firm but become deep red in color and sometimes bluish or gray. They are swollen, spongy and bleed upon the slightest pressure. In advanced stages there is an unpleasant odor from the mouth.

Periodic visits to the dentist will assure you of the necessary care. Preventive treatment will protect you against pyorrhea and other dental disorders.

Says U. S. Has Edge On World's Markets

WASHINGTON, June 4.—American businessmen hold an increasingly favorable competitive position in world markets, Secretary Morgenthau asserted today.

Discussing recent criticism of the treasury's $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund, the secretary said: "Our exports are the only bright spot in the whole business picture so far this year. The reason is that the competitive position of the American exporter is advantageous compared with his competitors in the rest of the world."

Morgenthau said that so far this year American exports had exceeded imports by about $100,000,000 a month and attributed this primarily to Secretary Hull's trade agreements program and to currency stabilization efforts.

He specifically denied congressional criticisms that the stabilization fund had failed to protect the exchange value of the dollar from depreciation of foreign currencies by their governments and said the treasury had statistics to prove that the exchange value of the dollar was favorable to American sales abroad.

Bounce Was O. K.
CHICAGO — Policeman Thomas Murral, retiring after 31 years of service, walked out of the police station with his last pay check of more than $100. When he reached home the check was missing.

Twenty-four hours later it was returned to him. William Brantley, a Negro porter, had found it on a railroad station platform.

Television No Menace to These Radio Beauties

Jackie Gately

Jean Rogers

Elvira Rios

Advent of television should cause no alarm among these stunning radio beauties. They are among the school of young performers who are now being trained for the forthcoming "radio movies". Jackie Gately, left, besides being a singer and Broadway night club star, won her first fame as a hog caller of all things—being declared champion of Yell county, Arkansas. Jean Rogers, center, is a radio and film starlet who hails from Belmont, Mass., and went to Hollywood in 1933 after winning a beauty contest. Elvira Rios, right, has just come from Mexico to join the ranks of NBC radio performers and does a program of folk songs from Old Mexico.

Czechs Arrest Hitler's Friend

Unity Vallyrie Freeman-Mitford

Arrested on suspicion of espionage, Miss Unity Vallyrie Freeman-Mitford, 24, English beauty and Nazi sympathizer, was held by authorities at Strerivice, Czechoslovakia, because she had an autographed photo of Hitler in her luggage. An American youth, William Mueff, 22, and two others, were taken into custody at the same time. Miss Freeman-Mitford, daughter of pro-Nazi Lord Redesdale of England, was recently beaten by a mob in London's Hyde Park when she appeared wearing a swastika badge given her by Hitler. Both were released, however, and permitted to motor into Germany.

Runaway Plane Crashes Car, Injures Woman

Her back and collarbone broken, Mrs. Susie H. Jones, 44, was rushed to Brunswick General Hospital in serious condition after the plane of Ugo V. d'Annunzio, son of the famous poet, ran wild at the Seversky flying field, Farmingdale, L. I. d'Annunzio faces charges of manslaughter if Mrs. Jones dies. The flier had gotten out of his plane to spin the propeller without first chocking back the wheels or closing the throttle. When the engine started the ship careened down the field and crashed into the Jones automobile.

Their Romance in Record Time

Mr. and Mrs. John Guthridge

Cupid really spread his wings when he took a hand in the romance of Ruth Joseph of Dallas, Tex., petite chief hostess of Braniff Air Lines, and John Guthridge of Wichita, Kas. They were introduced by long distance telephone at 4 p. m., following which Miss Joseph abandoned her vacation plans and flew to Wichita, where the meeting of the two at 7:30 p. m. resulted in their marriage at midnight. They had seen each other previously at the Wichita airport but never exchanged words.

Trend Is Away From Star System in Hollywood

One result of the current recession has been to influence Hollywood away from the so-called star system which has long prevailed in the film colony. Reduced budgets have made it necessary for studios to economize and one of the most effective ways of cutting costs has been to cast other than the highest-paid stars for coveted roles. Marlene Dietrich, Greta Garbo, Constance Bennett and Katharine Hepburn are no longer considered the box office assets they once were, at least in comparison to the salaries they command. Meanwhile, such newcomers as Deanna Durbin and Olivia de Havilland have come to the fore as well as a score of others of outstanding talent.

Dinner, Dance Are Features Of High Prom

SOCIAL-DINNER

The graduating class of the Salem High school was feted at a banquet and dance given by the Junior class last night.

The dinner, at the Masonic temple, was served at 6:30 by members of the Order of Eastern Star.

A group of sophomore class members played during the dinner, which was followed by a program with John Evans, junior class president, acting as toastmaster.

Supt. E. S. Kerr gave the invocation. One end of the room was dedicated, welcomed the students and faculty guests. Charles Wentz, president of the senior class, responded.

Joseph Morris entertained with a trombone solo, accompanied at the piano by Harold Hoprich. Henry Pauline played a saxophone number.

B. G. Ludwig, principal of the Junior High school, was the speaker, addressing the group on the subject of "Future Purposes."

The entertainment concluded with a cornet duet played by George Hanson and Nick Chitica, accompanied by Miss Mary Louise Emery at the piano.

Students went to the High school gym for dancing from 9 to 12. The Castleton orchestra from New Castle, Pa., directed by E. E. Branstetter, former Salem teacher, played for the dance.

Unusual and exceptionally attractive decorations gave the gym the appearance of a Grecian temple. White colonnades from floor to ceiling were arranged in a circle, with palms, ferns and foliage providing a natural setting. One end of the room was banked with flowers and greens to form a background for the orchestra. A large fountain of ferns, flowers, potted plants and palms in the center of the hall was illuminated by colored lights. The entire hall was lighted by soft-toned amber and violet globes concealed in the pillars.

Mrs. George Koontz, Miss Mary Roth and Lewis Smith, faculty advisors, arranged the affair.

Outdoor Meeting Is Arranged

At a recent meeting of the Friendly class of the Baptist church at the home of Miss Helen Bowman, Ohio ave., plans were made for an outdoor meeting later this month. Committees were appointed to complete details of arrangements, which will be announced later.

A social evening was enjoyed after the business session and a lunch was served by the hostess. Games provided entertainment.

"Love I Dare Not" by ALLENE CORLISS

CHAPTER XXXIV

Caroline said brightly, "It was extremely nice of you, Barry, to look me up like this. When did you get back, and did you see Alec and Gina, and if you did, how are they?"

They were in her small dressing-room after the evening performance of her show, and she was removing her third act makeup. In a blue cotton robe, belted slimly at the waist, its loose sleeves rolled up above her bare elbows, she looked like a school girl, a little breathless and exhilarated from a hard game of basketball.

Yet, less than twenty minutes ago, he had seen her give a competent and captivating performance behind the footlights.

He said, "I got back two days ago and I saw both Gina and Alec and they are both well." He added, "A year ago you were very wide-eyed and tremulous about the New York stage.... do you still feel the same way about it, now that you have arrived?"

She frowned and smeared cold cream evenly over her face and then removed it carefully. "No, of course not. I mean most of the rest of her life, or such part of it as she was active at anything. And it was a little too bad, he decided, because she would really be much happier warming her hands at the fire of some man's success rather than at her own. But if she didn't marry Alec, and he was fairly certain that when he had finished what he had come to say to her, she wouldn't, it was quite possible that she might go on alone, indefinitely, becoming increasingly absorbed, if not enthralled, with her work. And in the end, another adequate but not outstanding actress would be achieved at the expense of an ultimately happy wife and mother.

Because for some time now, Barry had been convinced beyond all doubt that whether Caroline knew it or not, she was primarily the sort of woman who craved fulfillment of marriage and maternity rather than the cold and often lonely glory of personal success.

But there was nothing he could do about this. He had come here tonight, not to make any attempt to direct her life, other than as it affected Gina's. It was Gina, after all, for whom he was making this gesture.... the last one, he hoped, that he would ever have to make for her. But after all, he had interfered with her life years ago, fortunately or unfortunately, whichever way you wanted to look at it, so it was no more than fitting and proper that he should interfere once more.

And those last days in London, he had seen that he had to, if any happiness was to come out of this for any of them....

So he said now, "Caroline, what I am going to tell you may upset you quite badly. Would you rather I waited until you're dressed and we can go somewhere and have supper, perhaps?"

She turned around and looked at him in surprise. She had finished with her face and was brushing her hair. It swept away from her forehead in bright confusion, giving her the appearance of a young and startled child. The beauty that had been only a promise, Barry decided, but it was a much more definite and undeniable one now.

She said, "I should like to go somewhere and have supper with you, but if you have something to tell me, I would rather hear it here alone with you than in a crowd of people."

"That's what I thought." Her eyes filling slowly with apprehension, she laid down the hairbrush and clasped her hands lightly in her lap. "What is it, Barry? When he didn't answer her at once, she said, "It's something about Alec, isn't it?"

He nodded. Then he let her have it straight, not trying to soften it at all. "Alec is in love with Gina. Caroline. He always has been.... but for some reason he seemed to grow absent-minded about it, and in the interval he got himself engaged to you."

Caroline continued to sit very still, her eyes fixed on Barry. But now they were filled with complete and very honest consternation. She said, her voice a little stunned. "But Barry.... it doesn't seem possible that I wouldn't have seen...."

Then she went on, her voice now more stirred, more acutely concerned. "And Gina.... does she.... is she.... that is, are they both...."

"Yes," said Barry, "they are. And they're wretchedly unhappy about it. Being decent, honorable souls they are, of course, utterly incapable of doing anything about it. So I took it upon myself to do what obviously someone had to do. In other words, I decided to come straight to you and tell you. I thought," he concluded mildly, "that you ought to know."

"Yes," said Caroline, breathing softly, "oh, yes, Barry!"

Then she managed a small, unsteady smile. "Thank you so very much. It was exactly the right thing to do."

"Yes, that is, I hoped you would think so. I said to myself, 'I'll tell her and then she can do whatever she thinks best, but at least she will know....'"

"There is only one thing to do, of course.... We both know that," Barry walked over to her and laid his hand lightly on her shoulder. "Stop me if I am wrong, but aren't you just the least bit relieved about it all?"

She considered this honestly, entirely without embarrassment or resentment. Finally she said, "I suppose I am. I was shocked at first.... I'm terribly fond of both of them, you see. And for some time now I have thought of myself as being engaged to Alec.... but I suppose that is affection and gratitude rather than anything else, I suppose that I have known for some time, even though I wouldn't admit it, that it wasn't enough...."

He patted her shoulder lightly. "In that case I feel I was absolutely justified in coming here and mixing up in something that wasn't any of my business.... Let's go somewhere and have some food."

"And decide," said Caroline, smiling at him faintly, "what I am to say to Alec when I write him tomorrow...."

But in the end they talked of a dozen things and almost not at all of Alec. They both knew what she would say. She would say simply that she had had time to think things over quietly and she had changed her mind about wanting to marry him—or anyone—just at the moment....

And Barry knew, or thought he knew, what Alec would do when he got that letter. He would go directly to the flat on Half Moon Street. Barry, sitting in a restaurant in New York, could see suddenly every detail of that small, intimate sitting-room, with its bow window and turkey-red carpet. He could see the parchment silk curtains drawn against the London fog, and the firelight streaking the carpet.... and Gina's face lifted to Alec's....

He came back abruptly and apologetically to New York and Caroline. Smiling at her, a trifle absently but not at all unhappily, he thought, "I shall never have to worry about Gina, any more, but I must see a lot of this child this winter. I must see that she meets certain people, gets included on certain amusing parties...."

In this way had Barry for years met situations like this.... he had found that invariably it worked very well. He had no idea that a remark he was about to make was more upsetting to Caroline than anything he had told her previously that evening.

He said, "By the way, I saw Tommy Gale this afternoon, and he tells me he's leaving town in a week or so. Seems he's got some sort of an engineering contract in northern Canada. Ontario, I think he said. Anyway, he seemed to think that a job that took him away from New York for two years was the world's prize package...."

And so, in the end, Barry knew that night to lie awake and sleepless, until dawn in a pale, wavering ghost of bedroom windows.

He had said Tommy Gale was leaving town in a week or so. He had said, "He seems to think that a job that will take him away from New York for two years is the world's prize package...."

Two years. He was going away and he wouldn't be back for two years. Anything might happen in two years. Anything. And what happened, they couldn't possibly be the same two people at the end of that time that they were now. Even if they met again.... what they might not.

Two years. It was too long. It stretched ahead too far. Along dark and lonely a road. He couldn't go on like this without seeing her. Without saying good-bye. Yet he would. She knew he would. She knew it with an awful certainty that clutched at her heart and shook and frightened and exalted. He would go without making the slightest effort to see her, to say good-bye. And she couldn't bear it.

When she had reached this conclusion she knew she must do something about it. That if she were to see him, and she had to see him, that it was she who would have to make the effort.

Baptists Planning Series To Bolster Church Attendance

Members of the First Baptist church are this year defying the usual "summer slump" in worship attendance by the adoption of a summer program called "The Church in Action."

This involves a series of nine Sundays covering the months of June and July and it will begin with a special observance tomorrow, the day of Pentecost, called "The Birthday of the Christian Church."

At this service Sunday the pastor will preach on the subject, "The New Life at Pentecost."

For the three remaining Sundays in June the series will include: "The Church and Her Children," "The Church Thinks of Father" and "The Church and Her Neighbors."

The congregation has pledged to make a special effort to attend these services and to bring summer guests. A special registration of members and guests will be made each Sunday and the church paper of the following week will recognize the guests.

During the series on "The Church in Action" the general theme of the Wednesday evening service of prayer and meditation is "The Person and Work of Jesus."

The Junior High school orchestra, under the direction of Walter Regal will play a series of numbers at the school assembly at 9:45 a. m. tomorrow. Complete services will follow.

Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; Elwood Bernal, superintendent.
Morning worship, 10:45—Observing the day of Pentecost.
Young Peoples services, 6:30 p. m.
No evening service as the church will join in the baccalaureate service to be held at the high school.

Wednesday, 7:45—Second in the series on "The Person and Work of Jesus." Topic will be "The Attributes of God in Christ."

Services Tomorrow For Church Of God
R. S. Huggins, pastor of the Cleveland Church of God, will preach at the morning worship service of the Salem Church of God tomorrow. His subject will be "Sanctification, Preservation, Multiplication."

Mr. Huggins will also preach at the evening service on the subject "Before Abraham Was, I Am." Visitors are welcome. Complete services are as follows:

9:45 a. m.—Sunday school
10:45 a. m.—Worship with sermon.
7:30 p. m.—Bible study with sermon.

Presiding Elder At A. M. E. Church

Presiding Elder H. A. Trotter will be in charge of the fourth and final quarterly conference of the church year at the A. M. E. Zion church tomorrow night. He will also deliver the sermon.

Complete services for the church tomorrow as announced by Ira Lavigne, pastor, are as follows:

9:45 a. m.—Sunday school; Charles Huddleston, superintendent.
11 a. m.—Worship with sermon by the pastor and music by the Junior and Senior choirs.

6:30 p. m.—Christian Endeavor; all young people are urged to attend as this is an important business to be completed before closing the conference year.

7:30 p. m.—Worship with sermon by Rev. Trotter and fourth quarterly conference. The pastor asks all officers and members to be present and have their reports ready for presentation.

Pentecost Sunday To Be Observed At Trinity Lutheran

"Pentecost Gifts" is the subject of the sermon which Rev. George D. Keister will preach at the morning worship service of the Holy Trinity Lutheran church tomorrow, the festival of Pentecost or Whitsunday.

Complete services for the church are as follows:

Sunday school, 9:45—(Mark 14:31) Charles W. Youtz, superintendent.

Devotion and love for Christ is real in the lives of many people. It was an actual fact in the first century and the passing of these many years has not dimmed this mark of attraction between Christ and His disciples. There are numerous ways of showing our love to Christ. There can be no better way than by serving Him and His Kingdom. Personal devotion to Christ will express itself in deeds of loving service. Love to Christ must be preeminent in the Christian's experience.

Morning worship, 11—Sermon. The Festival of Pentecost is fifty days after Easter. Then it was that the gift of the Holy Ghost was given to the disciples when they were in the upper room. Some received the power and conviction that sent them out into the world to preach and teach the living and eternal Gospel of Jesus Christ. The birthday of the Christian church is considered on this day. Jesus had promised the Comforter, that when He was received up into heaven, that the Holy Spirit should be with them to comfort and cheer them in the work of the Kingdom. The gifts of Pentecost are with us in these modern days.

Emmanuel Lutheran Services Tomorrow

Services tomorrow for the Emmanuel American Lutheran church, 291 S. Broadway, as announced by Rev. John Bauman, pastor are as follows:

The Sunday school meets at 9 a. m.; Lee Schaefer, superintendent. On this Sunday the pastor will speak to the entire Sunday school.

Pentecost, the birthday of the Christian Church, the day which commemorates the special outpouring of the Holy Spirit and the founding of the first Christian congregation in Jerusalem will be observed. Let us not fail to make the Pentecost festival a real day of blessing for our congregation. At the 10 o'clock service the pastor will preach on the theme, "The Blessed Gift of Pentecost." Let God's children assemble in the house of worship and be filled with the spirit of joy, peace, enthusiasm and consecration.

"Come, Holy Spirit!"
"The Festival of Pentecost is the third great festival of the Christian Church year. For some reason, Pentecost does not receive the honor among us to which it is entitled. Possibly this is due to the fact that it falls in the spring season, when nature is very inviting, particularly to people who own an automobile."

"Churchmen all over the world are hoping and praying today for a spiritual revival. If such a revival comes—and the first signs of it are beginning to appear—it will be the work of the Holy Spirit, the third person of the Trinity. In the present era of religious indifference and lukewarm faith, it is the activity of the Holy Spirit which, above all things, the Church needs. His fire. His power. His inspiration. On Pentecost we recall the day when this divine Spirit was first poured out on the apostles assembled in Jerusalem. But the Church does more than that. We pray that He may come to His church today with the same sevenfold gifts that He gave to the Church nineteen hundred years ago."

"We are painfully aware of the fact that many church members, in our community, do not attend in divine service every Sunday. But on Pentecost at least all Christians should be in the house of God to join their hearts to the age old prayer of the faithful: Come, Holy Spirit."

Announcements
On Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock the Sunday school teachers will meet. We urge all teachers to be present.

Tuesday evening at 7:30 the Lutheran league will meet in the social rooms of the church.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 the Ladies Aid will meet in the social rooms of the church.

List Tabernacle Services Sunday

"Three Aims for the Tabernacle" will be the subject of the morning message of Rev. M. R. Searies at the Lighthouse Tabernacle, W. State st., tomorrow.

The subject will set forth three objectives considered by the pastor as the greatest for which every one of the Tabernacle fellowship should aim.

Rev. Searies explains "We wish to go forward in the upbuilding of the great cause of Christ in this city and let all know that there is another New Testament church thriving with the life and power of the first Pentecostal church of the second chapter of Acts. Three things must ever be kept in mind if this is accomplished."

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. A welcome is extended to all. The evening service will open at 7:45. The pastor will be in charge. Special prayer for all sick and afflicted according to St. James 5:14,15, will be given those present.

Announcements
The Wednesday evening service at the Tabernacle will be in charge of the pastor.

The monthly northeastern Ohio fellowship meeting of the Assemblies of God will be held Monday in Youngstown at the Indianola Methodist church. Three services and all are welcome.

Christian Science Society Services

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read at the morning worship service of the Christian Science Society tomorrow. The Sunday service is also broadcast over station WCLE (610 kil.) Cleveland every Sunday at 11 a. m.

Sunday school for pupils up to the age of 20 years will be held at 9:30 a. m., while on Wednesday the mid-week service will be held at the church at 8 p. m.

The Golden Text is: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for Thou hast created all things, and for Thy pleasure they are and were created" (Revelation 4:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Give thanks unto the Lord, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the people.... Glory ye in His holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord" (I Chronicles 16:18,19).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Unfathomable Mind is expressed. The depth, breadth, height, might, majesty and glory of infinite Love fill all space. That is enough! Human language can repeat only an infinitesimal part of what exists" (p. 520).

The society maintains a reading room at 136 S. Broadway where the Bible and all authorized Christian Science literature may be read or borrowed. The room is open on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday (except holidays) from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. On Wednesday and Saturday, the room is open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend all services and to visit the reading room.

Hint Cardozo Will Resign From Court

NEW YORK, June 4—The New York Post says in a special dispatch from Washington that Supreme Court Justice Cardozo, because of illness, will not return to the court when it reconvenes in October after the summer recess.

Reached by telephone in Port Chester, N. Y., Justice Cardozo's secretary declined in his behalf to comment upon the report, explaining that this silence was Cardozo's unfeeling custom.

The Post's dispatch, mentioning Justice Cardozo's prolonged illness, says his "formal retirement probably will be deferred until January, even though he is not able to come back to Washington next fall."

CLASS A LOOP SECOND ROUND RACE IS TIED

Four Teams Deadlocked For First Place In Softball League

That tie for first place in the Class A Softball league's second round race was a four-way affair today following victories by Mullins Foremen and the Nameless Wonders in senior circuit games at Centennial park Friday evening.

The Foremen chalked up their second victory as against no defeats for the second round by trouncing the Trades Class, 9 to 1, while the Nameless Wonders kept their second round record clear by spanking the Salem News, 9 to 3. By reason of their wins, the two teams moved into a tie for first place with the Ohio Edison and Old Timers.

Supporting a three-hit pitching job by Jim Fitzpatrick, the Foremen brought in four runs in the second frame, three in the fourth and two in the seventh to win their game with the Trades Class without any amount of trouble. Mullins hammered out 13 hits, all told, with Jerome Kaiser, Arthur (Shorty) Borton, Marty Debnar, Merle Caldwell and Jim Alaback sharing batting honors.

Pitcher Holmes scored the Tradesmen's lone run in the fifth inning after getting on base on a triple. The Nameless Wonders, who until recently were the Salem Chinas, were making their first start of the second round in handing the Newsies their third straight setback. The Wonders were runner-up to the Old Timers for the first round championship.

Two-hit pitching by Dale Ritchie and Stoffer played a big part in boosting the Wonders to their win. The Newsies played on even terms with the Wonders until the fourth inning when the latter team went on a four-run scoring spree to take a 7 to 3 lead. From then on, it was all for the Wonders.

No Class B league games were played last evening. The junior circuit completed its first round, except for a play-off game, Thursday and will start its second round Monday.

Breezy Briets Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, June 4.—Just a year ago yesterday Max Schmeling fought his shadow in the famous "phantom fight" in the Long Island bowl.... "Schoolboy" Rowe may return to the Tigers as an outfielder if the Beaumont sun fails to bake out his sore arm.... Tony Galento is writing newspapers offering to cover the Louis-Schmeling fight without benefit of ghosts.... Joe McCarthy will part with $40,000 to get Buck Newsum of the Browns on the Yankee payroll before June 15.... Jimmy Braddeck's piece in the current Liberty rates at least three stars.... Notre Dame is having its 40th winning season in 47 years of baseball.

Note to Max Schmeling: Gene Tunney dropped into Rompton Lakes the other day and gave Joe Louis a private lesson on how to trim you.... When Gene visits Spectacular soon, make him reverse it.... The Broadway boys are laying for a Canadian horse named Tackman, due in the finale at Belmont today or at Aqueduct next week. Add no hitters: Lawrence Kenison, Newport (Vt.) High schooler, against Barton High.

Those wolves at the Yankee stadium have Joe DiMaggio down.... It's a shame the way they give the guy the raspberry.... He can't even tie his shoelaces that he isn't greeted with a chorus of boos.... You could tell the difference yesterday.... It was ladies day and half the customers were women.... They cheered Joe all along and the box score shows a homer and a single.... Denver's high altitude may handicap some of the eastern golfers in the National Open next week.... Judge Landis, minus his lion's mane and wearing a snappy Yale haircut, will be present when the Dodgers inaugurate night baseball June 15.

If Tony Galento gets past John Henry Lewis in Philadelphia, he'll be in line for a late summer shot with Tommy Farr here.... Tony is getting so fat that when he is introduced from the ring the announcers say "This is Galento.... Take Powell of the Yanks, who clawed up Joe Cronin's face earlier in the week, has been reinstated and is out of the deghouse.... Noble Kizer, ill for a year, will return to his job as athletic director at Purdue Sept. 1.... Sammy Goldman, who guided Pete Herman and Tony Canzone to world titles, has a heavyweight named Jimmy Robinson in tow.... Sammy is paying a lot of attention to him and that means you had better watch out.

Max Schmeling is toughening up his left against a sparring partner who wears an iron mask.... W. N. Reynolds, the North Carolina tobacco millionaire, likes to drive his trotters and pacers and exercises them about 25 miles per day.... He carries himself on the stable payroll as a $1 a year assistant to trainer Ben White.... Bronko Nagurski, this author's classmate in the Laars' club of the International Bulls (Minn.) Daily Journal, has the distinction of being the only wrestler mentioned in Bang's new boxing record.... Let's give 'em the old college yell, Bronko.... Coach Elmer Layden of Notre Dame is moaning right out loud because he loses 26 men—nine of them regulars—from the Irish squad this year.

Wes Ferrell won his third straight, pitching a six-hitter as the Senators walloped the Chicago White Sox, 5-1. The Brooklyn Dodgers scored a pair of runs in the ninth and nipped Cincinnati's Reds, 5-4. The Red Sox-St. Louis Browns game in Boston was rained out.

Marietta Rowing Regatta Canceled
MARIETTA, June 4.—Marietta college, her great dream of an inland state-studded rowing classic on the Ohio river blasted, hoped today to make it an actuality in 1939. R. D. Pinkerton, secretary of the race, said schools had declined invitations because participation would interfere with summer jobs of their oarsmen. The regatta was scheduled for July 2.

"Well cut out the objectionable post-season feature and try it next year," Pinkerton said.

CARDS' WORRIES ENDING; GIANTS' JUST STARTING

Frisch Quits Sprouting Grey Hair; Now It's Terry's Turn

BY SID FEDER

Grey hair has stopped sprouting on Uncle Frankie Frisch's head and is popping up now on Terrible Bill Terry's scalp.

What with Dizzy Dean gone, his museum collection of so-called pitchers doing some passable work, and Ducky Medwick and Enos Slaughter leading a return of the Jas House Gang at the plate, Uncle Frankie is finding it a pretty fair world after all.

Terrible Bill, on the other hand, can't quite make out what's come over his once proud and mighty Giants. Only a few weeks ago they were setting the National league afire, as though they were going to finish the pennant race in time to go fishing July 4. But at this writing they're limping along with a porous infield, bats with police in them, and pitchers, who, outside of Carl Hubbell, can't win for losing.

As a result, Terrible Terry's Terrific Terriers are holding onto the National league lead by the slim margin of a game and a half over the Cubs, while Terrible Bill, himself, is busy trying to trade everything from his spare outfielder to a mortgage on the Polo Grounds for a second baseman who can play second base.

Yesterday Bill started Harry Gumbert, the right-hander, he thought would be the most improved elbow in the league this year. And all Harry did was give the Pittsburgh Pirates six runs in the second inning.

As a result, the Cubs, once the most obliging cousins the Giants had, come through with a 6-5 victory behind some neat mound work by Rookie Bob Klinger. Paul Waner collected three singles to boost his life-time total to 2,501 hits, the only active National league member of baseball's 2,500-hit club.

Meantime, the Cardinals, featuring a revamped batting order, stretched their winning streak to four straight yesterday with an 8-7, 11-inning decision over the futility Phillies. Don Padgett, clouted a homer with the bases loaded, Enos Slaughter also whacked a round-tripper and pop-off Mickey Owen came through with a pay-off single in the second extra frame.

The Cubs, getting over the jitters from Boston's pitching, clicked for a 4-0 win. Bill Lee blanked the Bees with three hits for his third straight shut-out and his fifth straight win.

Red Ruffing also came up with a classy flinging effort in the American league, turning in a seven-hitter to give the Yankees a 5-1 edge over the Detroit Tigers and stretching his personal winning streak to seven straight. Except for their scoring inning, the Tigers didn't get a man past first.

The Yanks remained 2½ games off the Cleveland Indians' pace, however, since the Tribe knocked off the Athletics, 10-5. Bud Thomas was besting Johnny Allen until the Indians tomahawked him for six runs in the eighth to finish on top.

Wes Ferrell won his third straight, pitching a six-hitter as the Senators walloped the Chicago White Sox, 5-1. The Brooklyn Dodgers scored a pair of runs in the ninth and nipped Cincinnati's Reds, 5-4. The Red Sox-St. Louis Browns game in Boston was rained out.

DEATHS

MRS. HOMER B. MEAD

Mrs. Gertrude Douglass Mead, wife of Homer B. Mead of Bellevue, Pa., died at 7:30 a. m. Friday in Pittsburgh following a brief illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Mead formerly lived in Salem. In addition to her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Ross and Prudence Mead; a sister, Mrs. John H. Brooks of Beaver Falls, Pa.; two brothers, Arthur of Fresno, Cal., and Fred of Rochester, Pa.; and one grandson.

The funeral service will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday at Grandview cemetery. Interment will be Monday.

FRANK W. WINDLE RITES

Rev. H. J. Thompson conducted funeral service at 2 p. m. Friday at the Stark Memorial for Frank W. Windle, life-long resident of Salem.

Mr. Windle died Tuesday at his home on the Lisbon road.

Burial was in Grandview cemetery.

Fresh "Atrocities" Reported from Berlin

BERLIN, June 4.—Fresh reports of "atrocities" by Czechoslovak soldiers in Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German area were featured on front pages of Berlin newspapers this week.

German sources said a German named Joseph Schreier was killed by Czechoslovak soldiers at Maenrich-Schoenberg because he wore white stockings, part of the insignia of Konrad Henlein's Sudeten German party.

Other reports said a couple named Exner were dragged out of bed at Niedermüllersdorf Sunday by soldiers for possessing a Swastika flag and a portrait of Adolf Hitler.

It was also stated most of the foreign visitors were leaving the fashionable resorts of Carlsbad (Karlsbad) and Marienbad for fear of being molested by the "brutal Czech soldiers."

Because frontier crossings have been made virtually impossible, the newspapers alleged, numerous Sudeten Germans working on the German side of the border were being deprived of their livelihood, with much suffering and misery resulting.

rather than something like the black or brown shirts of Europe's warring nations."

Ebeling explained that 100,000 young men are represented by Junior Chambers in the United States, in addition to organizations in 16 foreign countries. The chamber's age limit is 21 to 35, inclusive; the junior chamber's work is all done in a spirit of friendliness, and third, it inculcates civic responsibility by doing something. "Junior Chamber members are builders," he said.

Corry, the state president, said the Salem Junior Chamber is the 20th to be organized in Ohio. He urged the local members to be sure of two planks in their platform; one, enthusiasm, the motivating power of the organization, and secondly, a definite plan to follow.

Directors and officers of the Salem club were invited to attend a state directors' meeting in Akron Sunday. Those planning to go are asked to meet at the postoffice at 8:30 a. m.

Invocation was given by Rev. C. F. Evans, and the benediction by Rev. H. J. Thompson.

F. D. R. Plans Study Of British Unions

WASHINGTON, June 4.—President Roosevelt announced today that a special presidential commission would be sent to England this summer to clear up what he considered to be misinformation in this country about the workings of the British trade union act.

This act sometimes has been held up by business interests and others as a model of legislation the United States might wish in order to define the proper activities of unions. Whether Mr. Roosevelt intends to apply the findings of his commission in any positive way was not brought out.

In discussing the purpose of the study at his press conference he said simply that it would have nothing to do with the Wagner Labor Relations Act. He explained that the purpose would be to end misunderstandings of the law but what he said he did not relate.

Mr. Roosevelt withheld the names of the commission members he has already selected but a letter written by John L. Lewis and released simultaneously with the conference disclosed that the Committee for Industrial Organization had been invited to have representation.

Lewis, the letter disclosed, first agreed to participate, but objected strenuously today after he had read published reports that one purpose of the study would be to get information to be used in modifying the Wagner Labor act.

May Ore Shipments Smallest Since 1933

CLEVELAND, June 4.—May shipments of iron ore on the Great Lakes were the smallest for that month since 1933, the Lake Superior Iron Ore association reported today.

Shipments last month totaled 1,180,703 tons, a decrease of 8,893,150 or 88.24 per cent from the same month last year. Shipments for the year to date are 1,441,217 tons, a decrease of 12,373,194 tons of 89.57 per cent over a like period a year ago.

May shipments in 1933 were 900,534 tons.

Vesselmen refused to estimate this year's shipments. With the present rate of steel operations there is sufficient ore on hand at docks and furnaces to meet needs for the next 18 months. Vessel companies daily are withdrawing ships from the trade due to lack of cargoes. One operator is reported planning withdrawing all vessels.

Raps Lawyers Who Try For Leniency

POMEROY, June 4.—Common Pleas Judge C. E. Peoples severely reprimanded attorneys at others today for attempts to obtain leniency for accused persons, outside of court as he sentenced Gerald Eiselen, 37, former Meigs county probate court clerk, to one to 10 years in Ohio penitentiary for embezzlement.

"No pleas for leniency," Judge Peoples said, "will be heard by this court until after the accused is either convicted or pleads guilty and then requests must be made in open court."

Eiselen pleaded guilty to embezzling $657.

If Fireman Dreams, He Dreams of Fires

Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy was tired this morning; tired after fighting "fires" which swept the Salem business district last night. Chief Malloy dreamed all night long, it seems. No sooner did he get one fire extinguished downtown than a blaze would burst forth in a new building.

Now that it's all over, the chief hopes the dream doesn't become reality. "Must have been something I ate at that Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner last night," Malloy concluded.

INSURANCE FOR WHEAT FARMERS

Policies Written Against Damage from All Natural Causes

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Uncle Sam formally entered the insurance business this week by offering policies to farmers against "damage from natural causes" to the 1939 wheat crop.

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation began mailing policies to farmers who have applied for insurance in the principal wheat-producing states. It expects to have 500,000 clients before fall.

The program offers farmers the first insurance ever "written" by the federal government. If found practical on wheat, Congress will be asked to extend the program to include cotton, corn, rice and other major crops.

All Risks Covered

"Federal crop insurance will make it possible for wheat growers to set up and draw upon a joint wheat reserve when they suffer crop losses, regardless of whether these losses are caused by drought, flood, wind, hail, insects, lightning or plant disease," Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace said.

The corporation is strictly a non-profit organization. Rates charged farmers will be based on the actual "risk" the record of past losses. The federal government will pay all expenses of administering the program.

The plan will guarantee that for his injured acreage the wheat grower will have a definite minimum amount of wheat to sell every year, regardless of crop failure. He may insure himself either one-half or three-quarters of his normal yield.

The premium must be paid in wheat, or the cash equivalent, before the 1939 crop is planted. If in wheat, the corporation will store it as a reserve. If in cash, wheat will be purchased at the market price, to be stored.

Price Not Insured

The corporation will insure the yield, but not the price of wheat. Payment for losses will be made in wheat, or cash at the market price when claims are allowed. Premiums must be paid each year in advance of planting.

The rates for guaranteeing a yield of 75 per cent of normal are from double to three times the rate for 60 per cent because of the greater danger of a partial failure. In determining the premium rates the "risk" on each farm will be computed from records of past losses on the farm and for the country.

Insurance adjusters will work through offices of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration agent in each county. Regional offices have been set up in Kansas City and Minneapolis and state offices in wheat producing states.

Premium Rates Vary Greatly

Premium rates for a 75 per cent yield range from 4 per cent of the normal yield in some Illinois, Ohio and Indiana counties where crop losses have been small to 40 per cent in western Kansas, Oklahoma and South Dakota.

A wheat grower in a typical Kansas county—Atchison—would pay a premium of one bushel an acre for a guarantee of 11 bushels if his farm was average for the county, which has a 10-year record of 15.4 bushels an acre.

Farther west in the same state, the typical Haskell county farmer would have to pay 2.9 bushels an acre for a guaranteed yield of 4.6 bushels an acre. In Oklahoma the premium ranges from 2.3 bushels for a guarantee of 5.5 bushels an acre in Beaver county to 3 of a bushel for a guarantee of 8.5 bushels in Osage.

Fiscal Year's End Shows Deficit Drop

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Treasury officials said today the fiscal year closing this month would have the smallest federal deficit since 1931, although the new spending program probably will triple the shortage next year.

With only a month's figures yet to check, the deficit excluding debt retirements, was $1,412,022,204. Quarterly income tax payments June 15 probably will bring the final figure close to the $1,338,000,000 deficit predicted by President Roosevelt.

In the preceding fiscal year, the deficit was $2,800,000,000. The record peacetime deficit was $4,700,000,000 in the 12 months ended June 30, 1936. Those figures, however, were swelled by soldiers bonus payments.

The deficit was reduced in the current year by record income tax collections. Next year, the administration proposes vastly increased spending for public works and "pump-priming" and anticipates a slight drop in revenues.

HANOVERTON

Mrs. Margaret Davidson was pleasantly surprised when members of the O. N. T. club met at her home Tuesday evening in honor of her birthday.

Theater Attractions

Robert Young, Simone Simon and Don Ameche, appearing in "Josette" at the State Sunday and Monday.

Simone Simon has Don Ameche and Robert Young as co-stars in the new musical, "Josette," which comes to the State Sunday and Monday.

The comedy team of Bert Lahr and Joan Davis, and Paul Hurst, William Collier, Sr., and Tala Birell have featured roles. The story concerns the efforts of two brothers, Young and Ameche, to keep their father, played by Collier, out of the clutches of a musical star, whom they believe to be Josette, enacted by Miss Simon.

The fact that she is not the woman in the case makes matters a bit complicated. The brothers fall in love with her and vie for her affections while their father, packed off to New York by the sons to get him out of danger, is having the time of his life, with the real Josette as his companion in New York.

Another Comedy Romance

On Tuesday and Wednesday the State will offer another comedy-romance, "There's Always a Woman," featuring Melvyn Douglas and Joan Blondell. Mary Astor, Frances Drake and Jerome Cowan have supporting roles.

The attraction at the State Thursday only is "Stolen Heaven," featuring Gene Raymond and Olympe Bradna in an unpretentious but highly entertaining romance of a pair of jewel thieves.

The week's billing at the State will conclude with the Friday-Saturday showing of Jane Withers' picture, "Rascals." The cast includes Rochelle Hudson, Robert Wilcox and Borrah Mineevitch and His Gang.

The Grand will present two pictures Sunday, when the summer schedule at the theater will go into effect. Beginning next Sunday the Grand will be open on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

Sunday's bill is as follows: "When G-Men Step In," with Don Terry, Jacqueline Wells, Robert Paige, Gene Morgan and Paul Fix; and "All American Sweetheart," featuring Patricia Farr, Scott Colton, Gene Morgan and Arthur Loft.

Mystery Story Billed

On Thursday the Grand theater attraction will be "Mystery House," a mystery story taken from the Mignon Eberhard novel. Dick Purcell plays the role of Lance O'Leary, detective, and Ann Sheridan is seen as his nurse sweetheart in the film in which Hugh O'Connell, Anne Nagel, William Hopper and Sheila Bromley appear.

The Three Mesquites, Bob Livingston, Ray Corrigan and Max Terhune, are featured in "Outlaws of Sonora" at the Grand next Friday and Saturday.

Concluding tonight are: "Vivacious Lady," with Ginger Rogers and James Stewart, at the State; and "The Singing Outlaw" starring Bob Baker at the Grand.

Petition Congress For Equal Rights

COLUMBUS, June 4.—The Miami valley conservancy district, through an Ohio senate resolution, petitioned congress today for equal treatment with the Muskingum district flood control project if the federal government intends to absorb local expenses of such developments.

Senators James M. Matthews (D-Clark) and Don R. Thomas (D-Montgomery) brought forward their resolution after the senate voted to memorialize the federal government for absorbing all costs of the Muskingum district.

Matthews asserted the Miami valley built its own flood controls and asked no assistance but argued that if the federal government now plans to pay for such works, his district also should receive consideration.

Padded Cell Next

LISBON, June 4.—A padded cell may be added to the county jail soon.

The cell was recommended by the February grand jury in its report to Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones. It would be used for the confinement of violently insane persons pending their removal to state institutions.

Pennsy Coal Men Fight Competition

PITTSBURGH, June 4.—Western Pennsylvania coal operators, declaring they were selling coal at a loss of approximately 25 cents a ton to meet West Virginia and Ohio competition, will take final action June 14 to form a marketing association, to be known as the Western Pennsylvania Coal corporation, to stabilize prices.

Under provisions of the Guffey Coal Control Act, the organization would function as a voluntary stop-gap for price-fixing until the national bituminous coal commission acts to re-establish minimum prices.

The association must have approval of the commission. Figures compiled by the national association have shown that the cost of producing a ton of coal in western Pennsylvania is $1.9876; northern West Virginia, $1.6349 and Ohio, $1.7148.

Coal is selling at mines here for $1.70 to $1.75 a ton.
